

2014 Chemistry Activity for the Shi-Ko Junior High School Students (12/23/2014)

Shi-Ko Junior High School located at the northern part of Chiayi County. Compared with students living in cities, students in Shi-Ko do not have many chances to participate extracurricular science activities. Thus, we provided all materials needed and went to the Shi-Ko Junior High School to show students how to prepare liquid crystal. After synthesis, students used the materials to assemble temperature sensing strips. More than half of the students participated this activity.
