

2015 Chemistry Camp for the Chiayi County Jhuci Senior High School Students (02/03/2015)

This is a one-day chemistry camp specifically designed for the students from the Jhuci Senior High School. Through hands-on experiments, the chemistry camp helped students to promote interest in learning chemistry. Students followed the green chemistry guidelines when doing experiments. Students learned how to assemble dye-sensitized solar cells and measure current.

