

Course: Chinese(I)

Credit: 2 Hours: 2 Required

Class: 生資系一年級

Instructor: Feng Xiao-Ting

一、Teaching Objectives :

The basic objective of setting this course is twofold: First, the country continued to extend the language of education, training taught students of literature degree in Mandarin; first gain writing skills, to enhance the expression of the language skills taught students. Edge with the basic position, the program was flexible and closely linked with the viewpoint of modern life, taught the students to complete the training.

To achieve these objectives, the course is to by the "Chinese Literature" among the more interesting part of the cuts, with the implementation of writing training course. In addition to taught students to broaden their horizons, but also can be so learned the skills of observation for different things, and describe the different things required of language skills.