

臺北市立松山高級工農職業學校 100 學年度教師甄選

【英文科】初試試題

 Please write down your answers right below the questions. *****

I. Define the following words and phrases; make a sentence with each of them. 24 %

1. stamina
2. epidemic
3. retrospect
4. cutting-edge
5. a fly in the ointment
6. eat one's words
7. What's your poison?
8. cut something to the bone

II. Error identification and sentence improvement 14 %

Instruction : Please underline any grammatical error or inappropriate usage in the sentences.
Write down your correction right underneath the marked parts.

1. Looking up the sky, a bird flied by.

2. Susie wanted to go shopping she liked to go to the sale.

3. Millennium is the year which most hackers planned to break into other computer systems.

4. Only when everyone arrived we can start the conference.

5. Peter : Hello, who's speaking?

Steve : It's me.

Peter : Oh hey, where you at?

Steve : Me and my sis are headed to the Lu-Fu theme park. You coming?

Peter : Cool. I'll be there.

III. Translate the following passage into Chinese. 12 %

Groupon is a deal-of-the-day website, working as an assurance contract: a certain number of people must sign up for the offer to make the deal available to all; otherwise, no one gets the deal that day if the predetermined minimum is not met. It creates a new approach to commerce that will change the way we eat and shop and interact with the physical world. Unlike classified advertising, the merchant does not pay any upfront cost to participate. Groupon collects personal information from willing consumers and then only contacts those consumers, primarily by daily email, who may possibly be interested in a particular product or service.

Groupon's breakthrough lies not so much in the deals as an ingredient that is both unlikely and ephemeral: words. Feeling that people may have grown numb to the elements of advertising, Groupon's editors try to mix business with art and create their own voice by borrowing some tools and terms from journalism, softening traditional heavy hand advertising, adding some banter and attitude and then leading the result to a discounted deal.

-- Adapted from "At Groupon, Comedy Drives Commerce" of the
New York Times, June 2011, and "Groupon" of Wikipedia

Translation :

IV. Your class is going to visit the museum for the anatomical exhibition - BODY WORLDS & The Cycle of Life. Design a worksheet with at least four questions and four tasks for the tenth-grade students to complete. This worksheet also functions as a preparation for the presentation of their trip report. 15 %

- V. On the topic of “Extensive Reading: One of the Important Keys to the Development of Language Skills as well as Educational Success,” please state your point of view and give examples to support your opinion. 15 %

VI. Write a lesson plan for your tenth-grade students to show them the importance of ecology. In your lesson plan, Internet resources such as video clips on YouTube or online news should be applied into your teaching so as to enhance students' interest in learning. 20 %