Plastic surgery is a medical specialty concerned with the correction or restoration of form and function. Though cosmetic or aesthetic surgery is the best-known kind of plastic surgery, most plastic surgery is not __11__. Plastic surgery includes many types of reconstructive surgery, hand surgery, microsurgery, and the treatment of burns.

Generally speaking, reconstructive plastic surgery is performed to correct functional __12__ caused by burns; traumatic injuries, such as facial bone fractures and breaks; __13__ abnormalities, such as cleft palates or cleft lips; developmental abnormalities; infection and disease; and cancer or tumors. Reconstructive plastic surgery is usually performed to improve function, but it may be done to __14__ a normal appearance. The most common reconstructive procedures are tumor removal, laceration repair, scar repair, hand surgery, and breast reduction.

Plastic surgeons use microsurgery to __15__ tissue for coverage of a defect when no local tissue is available. Free flaps of skin, muscle, bone, fat, or a __16__ may be removed from the body, moved to another site on the body, and reconnected to a blood supply by suturing arteries and veins as small as 1 to 2 millimeters in diameter.

Aesthetic plastic surgery involves techniques intended for the "enhancement" of appearance through surgical and medical techniques, and is __17__ concerned with maintaining normal appearance, restoring it, or enhancing it beyond the average level toward some aesthetic ideal.

In 2006, nearly 11 million cosmetic procedures were performed in the United States alone. Nearly 12 million cosmetic procedures were performed in 2007, with the five most common surgeries being breast __18__, liposuction, nasal surgery, eyelid surgery and abdominoplasty. Cosmetic surgery is now very common in countries such as the United Kingdom, France, and Germany. In Asia, cosmetic surgery has become an accepted practice, most widely __19__ and normal in China where it is currently Asia's biggest comestic surgery market. Children __20__ cosmetic eye surgery can be seen in Japan and South Korea.

There is a rumor going around that according to the Mayan Calendar, the world will come to an end in 2012. Do you believe the so-called 2012 doomsday prophecy? ___21__ We've all heard of these doomsday predictions before, but we're still here, and the planet is still here; then why is 2012 so disturbing?

A string of major earthquakes which have occurred in different parts of the world may well remind us of scenes of the ground opening up in the movie 2012. ____22___ For instance, there have been severe droughts in China, intense storms and blizzards all around the northern hemisphere, and catastrophic rains in the southern hemisphere. ___23___ Scientists concur earthquakes and volcanic eruptions have increased in frequency in recent years. The reason for this may be that Earth's magnetic field has destabilized and is weakening. This perhaps can explain abnormal behavior in animals that rely on the magnetic field for navigation: missing colonies of bees, lost migratory birds, and more beachings of whales and dolphines. ___24___ This has engendered concerns that it may cause anomalies in ocean currents above the earth's crust that in turn trigger climate changes.

If it does happen, how should we deal with all these changes? NASA has held meetings, monitored the situation and launched probes such as the Solar Dynamics Observatory with a view to providing an early warning system and making thorough contingency plans. ____25___ As for us individuals, now that there is no predicting what will really happen in 2012, why not calm down and keep your spirits up? Forget about all those doomsday predictions!

- (A) These catastrophes make the 2012 doomsday prophecy seem more credible, causing anxiety and trepidation in even more people.
- (B) Scientists call on governments to be better prepared, training for every conceivable disaster contingency, while also drawing upon Taiwan's ample disaster-preparedness knowledge.
- (C) Facing the imminent jeopardy, some people have become so hysterical that they even want to commit suicide.
- (D) Today, as human consciousness evolves in the age of healing, awareness, technology and reasoning, our attention is riveted to one calendar in particular, the Mayan Long Calendar.
- (E) Moreover, there have been bizarre weather conditions around the globe these years.
- (AB) Furthermore, some researchers have claimed that magma under the earth's crust shifts from the equator outward.
